- ① Just as they flew off the runway, which was in a straight line, a tsunami devastated the brand new mansion.
- ② The powerful wind kept hitting the private jet.
- ③ Joe and Ella were having an excellent time sunbathing at their brand new mansion. ✓

17-55 ☺ Effective use of expanded noun phrases and brackets in your opening paragraph! Good use of your editing page, too.
E Ensure all commas are in place, particularly after fronted adverbials e.g. All of a sudden ☺

① It was dawn, the sun ^{was rising} but so was the TSUNAMI. Joe and Ella ^{were sunbathing} at their new mansion ~~when~~. All of a sudden the weather changed. A great storm came upon the last, breathtaking and grand mansion. The couple (Joe and Ella) rushed inside to stay warm and ^{to get} shelter. They swiftly ran to the private jet. ^{and} they took off.

② Just as they took off the mansion was crushed by a tsunami. The wind was biting and the plane couldn't keep steady. As time went on, they tried to get above the clouds but they didn't succeed. Trying some last time, lightning struck them. The jet lost all of its power. Nothing would work. - the doors didn't open anymore.

Joe kicked the door open. As they were getting the seatpucks on the plane swirled and the spare seatpucks knocked them both unconscious ~~and~~ fell asleep. They had never been like this.

A magnet was put in the water and every thing metal attached to it. It was pulled out and they ^{were} saved.
