

KA229 'On the move for social inclusion' in San Giorgio a Cremano, Naples, Italy, from December 16th to 21st 2018.

On Sunday, December 16, 2018, a Basic Vocational Training group of 5 students and 2 teachers depart from the Madrid-Barajas airport towards the small town of San Giorgio a Cremano, near Naples, in Italy. At the Naples airport we had a warm welcome from our hosts.

Distributed all the students in their respective families, it was time to meet the teachers of the different international delegations (Italy, Portugal, Greece, Turkey and us).

Monday, December 17 was the day in which the international delegations were received by the mayor of the city, to which we were able to do an interview about social inclusion, one of the main objectives of our project.

After this reception, we returned to the host institute, the Statale Carlo Urbani High School, where students from the different international delegations chose the project logo in a kind of challenge.

After the different activities carried out in the educational center, we went to a famous pizzeria in the town, where the students carried out a pizza making workshop and everyone could taste the famous Neapolitan fried pizza.

We finished this first day of activities by visiting a typical Vesuvian village, an example of the architecture of the area of the 17th and 18th centuries, which housed an exhibition of typical Neapolitan nativity scenes.

On Tuesday 18th we headed by train to the city of Naples, where we enjoyed a magnificent day of culture and art.

San Domenico Maggiore, Santa Chiara, Chiesa del Gesu-Novo, Port'Alba, Maschio Angioino and Castel del l'ovo are just a few examples of all the wonders we could enjoy in the city of Naples. And, of course, Vesuvius!

On December 19, continuing with the scheduled cultural visits, how could it be otherwise, we arrived at one of the cities that surprised us most, not only for its beauty, but also for its antiquity and its history ... Pompeii.

We were fascinated by the incredible story of Pompeii. An ancient Roman city buried by the ashes of the eruption of Vesuvius in 79 A.D.

It was like being involved in a Roman movie! Its cobbled streets, the buildings, the frescoes on the walls, the mosaics of the floors of the houses, the thermopolishes (a kind of fast food restaurants of Ancient Rome), the human figures extracted from the hollows in the ashes with a special technique of those who perished in the eruption ... something truly unforgettable.

The next stop on our trip this day was Sorrento, a tourist coastal city of great beauty.

And, little by little, we reached the end of our trip. On Thursday, December 20, we all met at the Statale Carlo Urbani High School, where the teachers continued with our obligations derived from the project and the students were able to enjoy sports competitions and strengthen the bonds of friendship, which united them from the first moment.

The day concluded in Cava de Tirreni, but before we passed through Salerno, where we could enjoy the beauty of its streets and the spectacular Christmas lights.

In Cava de Tirreni our hosts entertained us with a great farewell dinner.

It was time to end the exchange. The experience has been wonderful and very enriching for everyone; proof of them are the images of the farewell ...

...See you in Vitoria-Gasteiz!
