5 λόγοι για να την επισκεφτείτε

An aerial photograph of the island of Samos, Greece, during the 'blue hour' of dusk. The town of Samos is illuminated with warm yellow and orange lights, which reflect on the calm sea. The coastline is visible, showing a mix of residential buildings and a promenade. In the background, the island's rugged mountains are silhouetted against the twilight sky, which transitions from a deep blue to a soft orange near the horizon. The overall atmosphere is serene and picturesque.
