

My hallowing poem

Zombie

dead and ugly

walking and eating brains

deadly

monster

It was an autumn afternoon. I was at home with my friend Hugo. It was nice because we could feel the smell of soup coming from the Chinese restaurant.

Suddenly, it was dark behind me. I could see a monster walking to my house. It was an ugly and dead zombie with a deadly look so I wanted to run but I couldn't move my legs and I thought it would eat my brain ...

Then I woke up. It was a nightmare on All Hallows' Eve

Bat

black and hairy

frightening and terrifying

chilling

night creature

It was a dark day in October. I was with friends at a Halloween party. I could hear noises and I could see a bat outside. I could smell a scent coming from behind the house where the party was. I felt curious and followed it. There was something black and hairy watching me, that's why I felt observed. Suddenly, this night creature approached so I had to run into the house.

Then I looked out the window, although I saw nothing frightening outside, it was chilling and terrifying.

Because it was

All Hallows' Eve

Ghost

invisible, spectral terrifying, travelling, flying the most chilling spirit horror

My hallowing story

It was a terrifying night in October. I was travelling by train with my family.

I could see a person flying, it was a spectral appearance. All the people who were on the train became invisible. I was feeling scared, because the person who floated was the most chilling spirit. I think it was a ghost, it was a horror !

Only natural because it was

All Hallows' Eve

Andrea García Luque

My hallowing poem

Mummy
fear and terror wrapped in bandages
scary and menacing
a man in white

It was a terrifying night in November. I was waiting for my friends in the street to go to a cave. When we got there, I could hear a menacing shout. Suddenly I saw someone wrapped in bandages coming out of a tomb. My friends and I looked at this man in white in fear and terror. But we realized that he was our friend Alex disguised as a mummy.

Because it was All Hallows' Eve

My HALLOWEEN poem

Corpse bride
evil and spooky terrifying, chilling and horrifying fear, terror and panic shadows in the night

My HALLOWEEN story

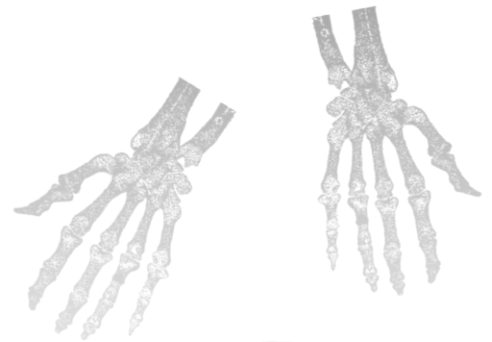

It was a chilling morning.
I was alone when I saw the shadow of the corpse bride in the castle
I could hear her steps, she was moving slowly.
I could see her white dress when she moved.
I could feel the smell of death when she came to me.
Suddenly, I knew who she was: an evil bride, spooky and horrifying.
I met her because it was All Hallows' Eve

My HALLOWEEN poem

Little bones
horrific and horrible scaring and running creaky
skeleton

My hallowing story

It was a horrible night in October. I was with my friends in the park and we could hear horrific voices. Strange people were around us, that is why I was feeling scared.

There was a creature with little creaky bones, it was scaring the children. It was a skeleton

Because it was All Hallows' Eve

My halloween poem

Dead body terrifying and evil
walking and scaring stealthily
Mummy

It was a terrifying night in October. I was with my friends. We were hanging out in a park when we saw a dead body. He was evil and he was walking stealthily towards us. A group of boys was running away because that dead body was scaring them. I was feeling very frightened. We think that this dead body was a mummy!

Because it was All Hallows' Eve

My HALLOWEEN poem

A party terrifying and funny frightening and enjoyable happily
Halloween

My hallowing story

It was the 31st of October in a small town in Spain. I was at a party where I could hear terrifying voices. I could see shadows but also some tables with sweets. We were frightened but we danced happily. It was enjoyable because it was just a funny Halloween party.

Jose Antonio Medina Alonso

My HALLOWEEN poem

A witch
terrifying and ugly flying and doing magic badly
monster

My HALLOWEEN story

It was a terrifying night in October. I was with my friends in a cemetery. I could hear scary songs and the laughter of a witch. I could see a flying broom in the sky. I could smell something coming from the darkness, it was a witch doing magic. There was a very ugly witch that is why I was feeling a presence. Suddenly, we saw a shadow so we left the place running but the monster stayed.

Because it was All Hallows' Eve

My hallowing poem

Skeleton

cold and violent

drinking and sleeping

silently

Halloween

My hallowing story

It was a cold day in October. I was with my friends at a Halloween party. I heard a violent slam so I went to the corridor to check what it was. I could see a skeleton drinking soda. I felt cold. I took my keys so I could scape silently.

The next day my friends told me that it was a joke because it was

All Hallows' Eve

Robert García Rodríguez

Dracula
Deadly, bloody
Crying, biting, bleeding
The shadow of evil
Vampire

It was a horrible night in autumn. I was with my friends at a Halloween party. I could hear terrifying voices coming from the garden, because someone was crying and crying. I could see a shadow through the window when I went out to the garden. Suddenly, I saw a deadly body biting and biting. My best friend was bleeding that's the most terrifying thing I've ever seen.

It was an EVIL VAMPIRE on All Hallows' Eve

Witch hat
large hat but not bright interesting hat and relaxing wart night of fantastic creatures evil witch

It was a happy Monday on the 31st of October. I was with my friends in a park. I could hear things in the night, it sounded like fantastic creatures. I could see black cats at nightfall and smell pumpkin coming from to the forest. There was an evil witch with a large hat that is why I was feeling weird.

Suddenly lightning struck so I ran away because it was All Hallows' Eve

My hallowing poem

A vegetable malicious and big growing and growing quickly
EVIL PUMPKIN

My hallowing story

It was a lovely afternoon in October. I was alone in the garden going for a short walk. I was looking at the flowers and enjoying the fresh air when I saw an orange vegetable, it was big.

Suddenly, I saw it growing and growing very quickly. There was something malicious about it, that's why I was feeling a bit scared. It had horrible eyes and a wicked smile! How was this possible? But of course, it was All Hallows' Eve.

This was an evil pumpkin!

My HALLOWEEN poem

A mutant
green and ugly
shouting and frightening noisily Frankenstein

My hallowing story

It was a scary night in October. I was waiting for my friends in my house. Suddenly, I heard a noise in the street, I looked through the window and I saw a mutant outside. He was horrible! He was green and very ugly. Oh no! My friends were coming! The mutant was shouting very loudly and frightening the children. He was walking noisily so my friends heard him and turned back because they were very scared. We think that this mutant was FRANKENSTEIN !

Because it was All Hallows' Eve

