

A CAR RUNS OVER A STUDENT

On Wednesday a car ran over a student in “Les Rambles”.

Mark on “Les Rambles” after the accident.

It was on the midday of Wednesday during the lunch break, when a car ran over a student of the ERASMUS + project. They had gone to Barcelona to stay all day there, in lunchtime each student went wherever he wanted and with whomever he wanted.

Mark was with his friends group, they were walking through “Les Rambles” in Barcelona, he and his friends crossed the rue and wanted to go to McDonald's; when suddenly a car turned by the curve where then the principal car accident went through.

After all, Mark is in a mild state. He was taken to the emergency services of the Clinic Hospital in Barcelona. There they made him an X-ray, and later they realized that the fibula and two ribs had been broken.

Now Mark has to rest, and after two and a half months he has to attend rehabilitation for 40 days.

GAMEPLAY, THE BEST EXPOSITION, NOWADAYS

Until the 3rd of May the Gameplay claims the video game.

Exposition of evolutions

In the CCCB (BARCELONA CONTEMPORARY CULTURE CENTER), you find the Gameplay exposition, where you make a journey to the origins of video games. In addition, they assert that video game is culture. They get in all the topics, it's an exposition for all ages, because it has got a part of explications for adults or interested children and an interactive part where you can get on practice to old games as: Donkey Kong, Gray, Monument Valley 2, Pac-Man, Sisyphus, Super Mario World, Bubbles, Asteroids...

The exhibition is based on a single aisle, you can go at your own pace and entertain yourself as long as you like, at the beginning you can put into practice video games like Pac-Man, use the game machines as before. Arriving at the end they go intruding television, modern controls, comfy chairs or modern material such as glasses for living reality.
