Denisa and her friends planned to bully Martin. One day Denisa started talking with Martin through Instagram.

On Saturday, as planned, they met. To be nice, Martin gave her a candle. When he was holding the candle, Denisa started laughing and made Martin confused.

Suddenly her friend, who were hiding near, approached and started hitting Martin. When Rebeka realised, what was going on, she ran to help him and hit the bullies with a stick. She smacked Denisa in Martin's defense and laughed at her face.

One day at school our teacher wanted to see the photo from her childhood. She couldn't find the pictures, but after some time she found them. She was happy, but surprised, because she couldn't remember the name of her teacher. She called her pupils to help.

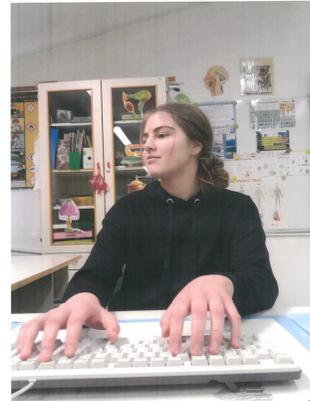

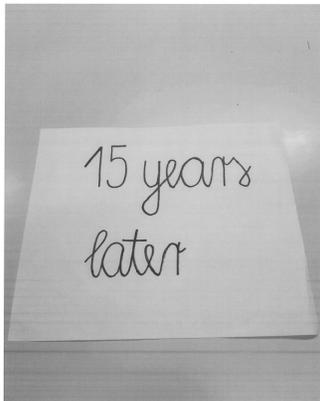

They used Facebook to find some woman, who looked same as the woman in the picture. They wrote a list with the name of the woman. The teacher came and when she saw the name, everything was clear. Her teacher was Fiona Smith. The teacher and her pupils found her address. They set forth. She lived close. The meeting was very emotional after these years. Everybody was happy and very excited.

Sometime ago one boy has become a victim of bullying. One day his classmates pushed him and he dropped his things. And this is how the cyber bullying started. Next day somebody sent him a picture of him being bullied. And he told him that he was going to post this photo on social media. A day after that happened, the boy saw his picture published on Instagram. When he came to school everyone was laughing at him. He thought that he would be safe in his class but also his classmates were making fun of him. He escaped home, because he was so hurt.

Our story begins with a girl who wants to look pretty. She wants to show this on social media. Like nowadays girls, she has Instagram account. One day she posted a picture from a party. Fifteen years later though, when the time came and she had to find a job, her past actions had consequences. A colleague of her was curious of her past and she searched about her on Instagram. She found the picture, that she posted fifteen years ago. So she shows her that picture and she judges her. The girl feels ashamed and she is in despair. That is the reason she decides to end her life.

Once upon a time there was a girl. She was 13 and she was going to high school. She was all the time alone, and all the people were laughing about her body and personality. One day, in the afternoon, all the class started saying bad things about her through Whatsapp group. The next day, when she arrived at school, she saw the messages and decided to throw away her food. In the evening all the family was going to have dinner at her house, but she rejected the food. This is just one of all the problems that cyberbullying can cause.

A girl was talking to another girl on Facebook and they arranged a meeting in the part at 18. When the first girl went to the park, the other one was already waiting for her. They started talking and decided to go for a walk. When they got to an isolated place, the second girl hit the first one and stole everything from her. The bullied girl woke up covered in bruises and when she looked around, she saw the bully girl walking away with her belongings.

A couple of kids started talking on Facebook, the boy named Anthony seemed nice and handsome, so when he asked for naked pictures of Vanessa, she didn't hesitate and sent them hoping he would do it too. Vanessa refused to send more pictures and he got angry because he wanted to see her, so he decided to hack her computer and watch everything she does. With all the pressure and threats from him, she started getting distant from her friends and doing drugs, drinking alcohol and taking pills. And when she couldn't take anymore pressure, she cut herself and ended up jumping in front of the train. Later in the news, he saw that she was dead and he didn't feel bad at all, but her friends blamed themselves for not trying to stop her and got her help.

Story: Portugal

Once upon a time there was a girl, who was saying goodbye to her friends, because she was going on holidays. She was very happy, so she put a post on Instagram saying, that she was going to Greece from 19. 6. to 21. 6.

The post was seen by many people. One of them had a terrible idea to rob her house. He met her friend to try to get to know her address. He received it and in the next day he called a friend to help him with the heist. They went to the girl's house and stole a lot of things. When they were running out, her neighbour saw them and called the police.

With this story we learned that the social media is not the place to say everything about our lives. Be careful.
