This people are working. And also me too. Why? Why are we working? Because we have to do that to eat something. Because we know that nothing happens without labor. The old farmer's speech made the king ashamed. And he moved away from there slowly with the vizier and the chevohiers. When they arrived at the palace, the king sat on the throne quickly. He was still thinking of the old farmer. He was affected from him. While he was thinking, he suddenly turned to the chevohiers. The king commanded to bring the old farmer to the palace from them. The chevohiers went to field to take away him at the palace. However the old farmer was not appearing around. They could not find him and went to the palace to say that to the king. When the king learned it he was sad. But he did not worry about the old farmer. He was probably too tired , so he went to his home to rest he thought. After two days there is not still news from him. The king was worried now and he wanted from the chevohiers to search him again. After few weeks, the chevohiers heard something about him from the people. While they were coming at the palace. They got news about him to the king. When the king heard that the old farmer died. The king decided to continue unfinished planting tree wit the people. When he felt tired, he remembered the old farmer. He went on working harder. Because the king learnt that " Nothing happens without labor..."
