The woodworking shop was founded in the 16s and early twentieth century in  Medellin, when Don Castor Arango had a warehouse of articles and inputs for  the field, saw the opportunity to create his own woodworking to meet a great  demand for that time.

Currently the company has a much wider product portfolio offering items not  only for dairy, but for all equestrian activities. It still retains the original  technique with which it was worked from the beginning, since the product  offered is made entirely by hand and with rigorously selected raw materials.
