

Visiting the BIMAQ in Bremen

Welcome to Bremen!

Today you will visit an institute of the University of Bremen – the BIMAQ.

The letters are a shortcut for „Bremer Institut für Messtechnik, Automatisierung und Qualitätswissenschaft“.

Task 1: The German students translate the name into English:

In the next hours you will listen to some experts who work at the BIMAQ, walk around the site and see some experiments.

Task 2: Fill in the answers to the following exercises.

Summarize about what the lecture was about?

Name three of the experiments which you have seen.

Choose your favorite experiment.

- Explain its main concept and what is researched with it.
- Sketch/Draw its setup.

