

DEFINITION of BULLYING

There are 4 types of bullying : cyberbullying, verbal bullying, social bullying and physical bullying.

This is a bad behaviour against someone.

CYBER-BULLYING takes place on social networks or with cellphones.

The bully sends threatening messages for example.

VERBAL BULLYING is insults against someone (with unkind words for example), calling someone's names, making fun of someone.

Bullies don't respect the others.

SOCIAL BULLYING is when the bully ruins the bullied's life by rejecting and isolating him or her.

PHYSICAL BULLYING is when the bully hits, beats, kicks, punches, pushes, hurts, fights, tortures, rapes, bites, shakes and mangles the others.

REASONS

The bully wants to feel stronger, better, more confident.

It can be a game for the bully.

The bully wants the bullied to feel weaker than him or her.

The bully likes violence.

The bully doesn't want to be the bullied.

The bully wants to be respected.

The bully may have been bullied before.

The bully wants the bullied to be sadder than himself.

CONSEQUENCES

The bullied is fed up with bullying.

The bullied may commit suicide.

The bullied is alone, rejected, humiliated and isolated.

The bullied doesn't want to go to school anymore because he may lack of confidence or he may be too scared and frightened.

The bully may make the bullied forget his or her values, what he is worth.

The bullied becomes depressed and sad.

SOLUTIONS :

Pupils can talk to their teachers or parents to be helped.

The bullied can make complaints to the police.

The bullied should punch or bully the bully back!

The bullied shouldn't listen to the bully because he or she is stupid / dumb.

Everyone should stand up against bullying to live happily, funnily, well, peacefully and excellently.

27 sentences