

Gender roles in media and literature

Cenicienta

The disney princess are a very good example of machism. Cenicienta is a film of disney from 1950. In this film the girl is always clean the house and she live in poor conditions. This way of life represent an enslave woman and this is a representation of machism.

Whitesnow.

Whitesnow is one of the first films of Disney. That is about a girl called Whitesnow. In a part of the film the princess is going to dead. A prince saved she kissing he because a witch gave she a poison golden apple and Whitesnow get sleep and she can not wake up. On the story the girl is dependent, and this is one of the machist characteristics.

