

Hi! Do you know her?

She is Ana Moura and she sings Fado.

She was born on 17th September, 1979 in Santarém, a historic city of Portugal near the river Tejo and located on the northeast of Lisbon.

Her first album was “Guarda-me a vida na mão” released in 2003.

She has performed with several international artists such as Prince, The Rolling Stones, Caetano Veloso, Gilberto Gil and Herbie Hancock.

In 2007 she sang with Mick Jagger “No expectations” in the The Rolling Stones concert at the Alvalade XXI stadium in Lisbon and in 2010 Ana Moura and Prince sang together a Portuguese version of “Walk in the sand” and the fado “Vou dar de beber à dor” in the Festival Super Bock/ Super Rock in Portugal.

How do you say Fado singer in Portuguese? (one word)

Was she the youngest singer to be nominated for a Dutch Edison Music Awards?

What is her latest album released in 2015?

Hello. This is Joana Vasconcelos and she is an artist.

She was born in a foreign country but she is Portuguese and lives and works in Lisbon.

Vasconcelos uses several everyday life objects to make her sculptures such as bottles, pans and so on.

Her participation in the 2005 edition of the Venice Biennale affirmed her career within the international art circuit with the piece A Noiva (The Bride), a 20 ft. high chandelier.

She was the first contemporary woman artist with an exhibition in the Palace of Versailles.

Where was she born?

Which objects did she use to make the chandelier “The bride”?

When was her exhibition in the Palace of Versailles?