

Henryk Sienkiewicz

Henryk Sienkiewicz (1846 –1916) was a Polish journalist and writer. He wrote historical novels, mostly about the history of Poland.

The most famous of his books is the internationally known best-seller “Quo Vadis”. It was made many times into films.

Questions:

1. What important prize did Sienkiewicz get for his books and when? (2p.)
2. When and where does the action of “Quo vadis” take place? (2p.)