

A DIY
Sock
Snowman

---

THINGS YOU NEED

a white sock (the bigger it is, the bigger the snowman),
a few colored buttons,
about 300 g of rice,
3 pins with heads (preferably two pins are black and one is red or orange),
white thread,
1 rubber band,
a ribbon, a colorful sock or a piece of colorful fabric (for a hat and a scarf for a snowman),
glue,
scissors.

MAKING OF THE SOCK SNOWMAN

1. Cut the sock between your toes and heel.
2. Turn the part of the heel sock inside out.
3. Tie one side of the sock very tightly with a thread and turn the sock inside out (sewing will not be visible).
4. Fill the sock with rice or other material.
5. When the sock is filled, tie the other side tightly to keep the filling in place.
6. Use the rubber band to divide the snowman into two parts, one of which will be bigger and the other smaller. 2 neat little balls should form.

FINISHING TOUCHES

1. Use the remainder of the sock (the toe portion of the sock) to create a hat by folding the fabric once or twice and putting it over the snowman's head . If the snowman is to be a decoration, you do not need to attach a hat. However, if it is to be a cuddly toy, you can attach it with a rubber band, and then fold it up a little so that the rubber band is not visible. If the snowman is to be a decoration hanging on a Christmas tree, the hat can also be pinned on.
2. Now use two pins with black heads to make the snowman's eyes, and use the third orange or red pin to make a nose.

3. A scarf for a snowman can be made of an unnecessary coloured sock or a ribbon. Cut a strip of fabric and tie it around the snowman's neck. The scarf will not only be a nice decoration and add charm to the snowman, but it will also hide the rubber band.

4. Glue or sew the buttons to the snowman's tummy.
