

Long time ago in Warsaw...There lived a young boy Lutek. He was a poor shoemaker. In the evenings he liked sitting in a tavern and listening to stories from old residents.

Have you heard about a mysterious duck from the underground.

Yes, I heard that it gives wealth, but it is dangerous as you might never go out of underground.

Amazing...

A few minutes later...

I must find this duck
and become rich soon.

When finally Lutek got to the castle he easily found the entrance to underground.

It is so dark and scary here. Where is the duck that is supposed to give me treasures?

Finally Lutek found the chamber with the golden duck.

Hello Lutek, you found me
so you deserve the prize.
Here you have 100 ducats

But remember, you have to spend everything in one day and you can't share the money with anyone.
Otherwise you will always be poor.

After the meeting with the duck.

I am happy,
because I am rich!!!

Lutek did a lot of shopping, ate the most expensive dinner in town, went to the theatre and bought a horse. Suddenly he saw a beggar.

Could you give me some money, because I am a very poor man,

Yes, please I will give you some money.

At the moment when Lutek was giving some money to the poor man, enchanted duck changed into a princess and appeared in front of Lutek.

Thank you very much!!!

Well, actually I am happy. Money doesn't give you happiness if you can't share it with anyone.

You didn't fulfill my conditions and you will always be a poor shoemaker.
