

Once upon a time there was a man, called Mr Twardowski. He was very ambitious and greedy

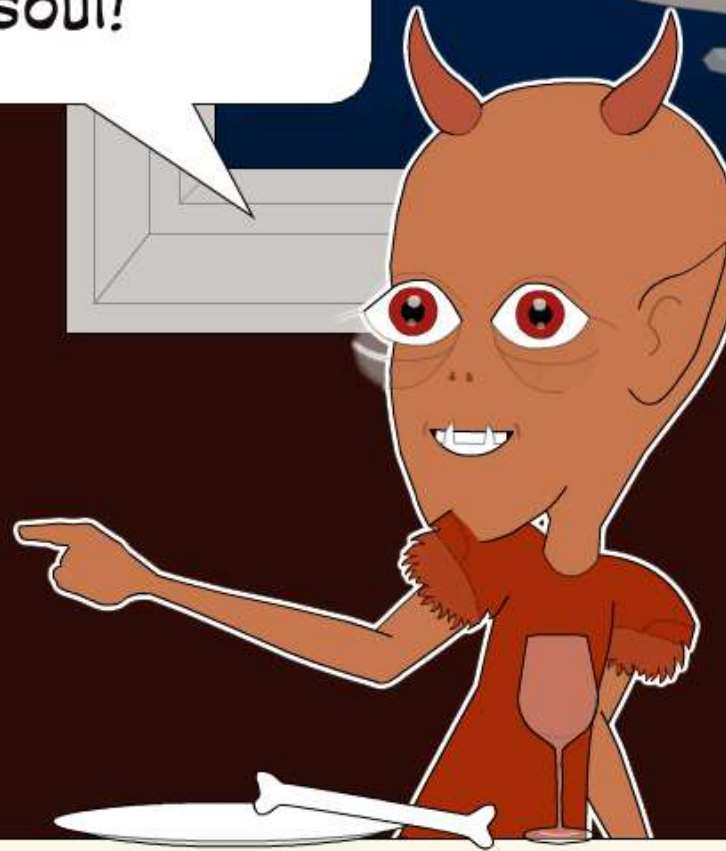

One time, he decided to sign a pact with devil.

You will serve me
till the end of my life!

Not so fast! Don't forget that when we are in Rome you must give me your soul!

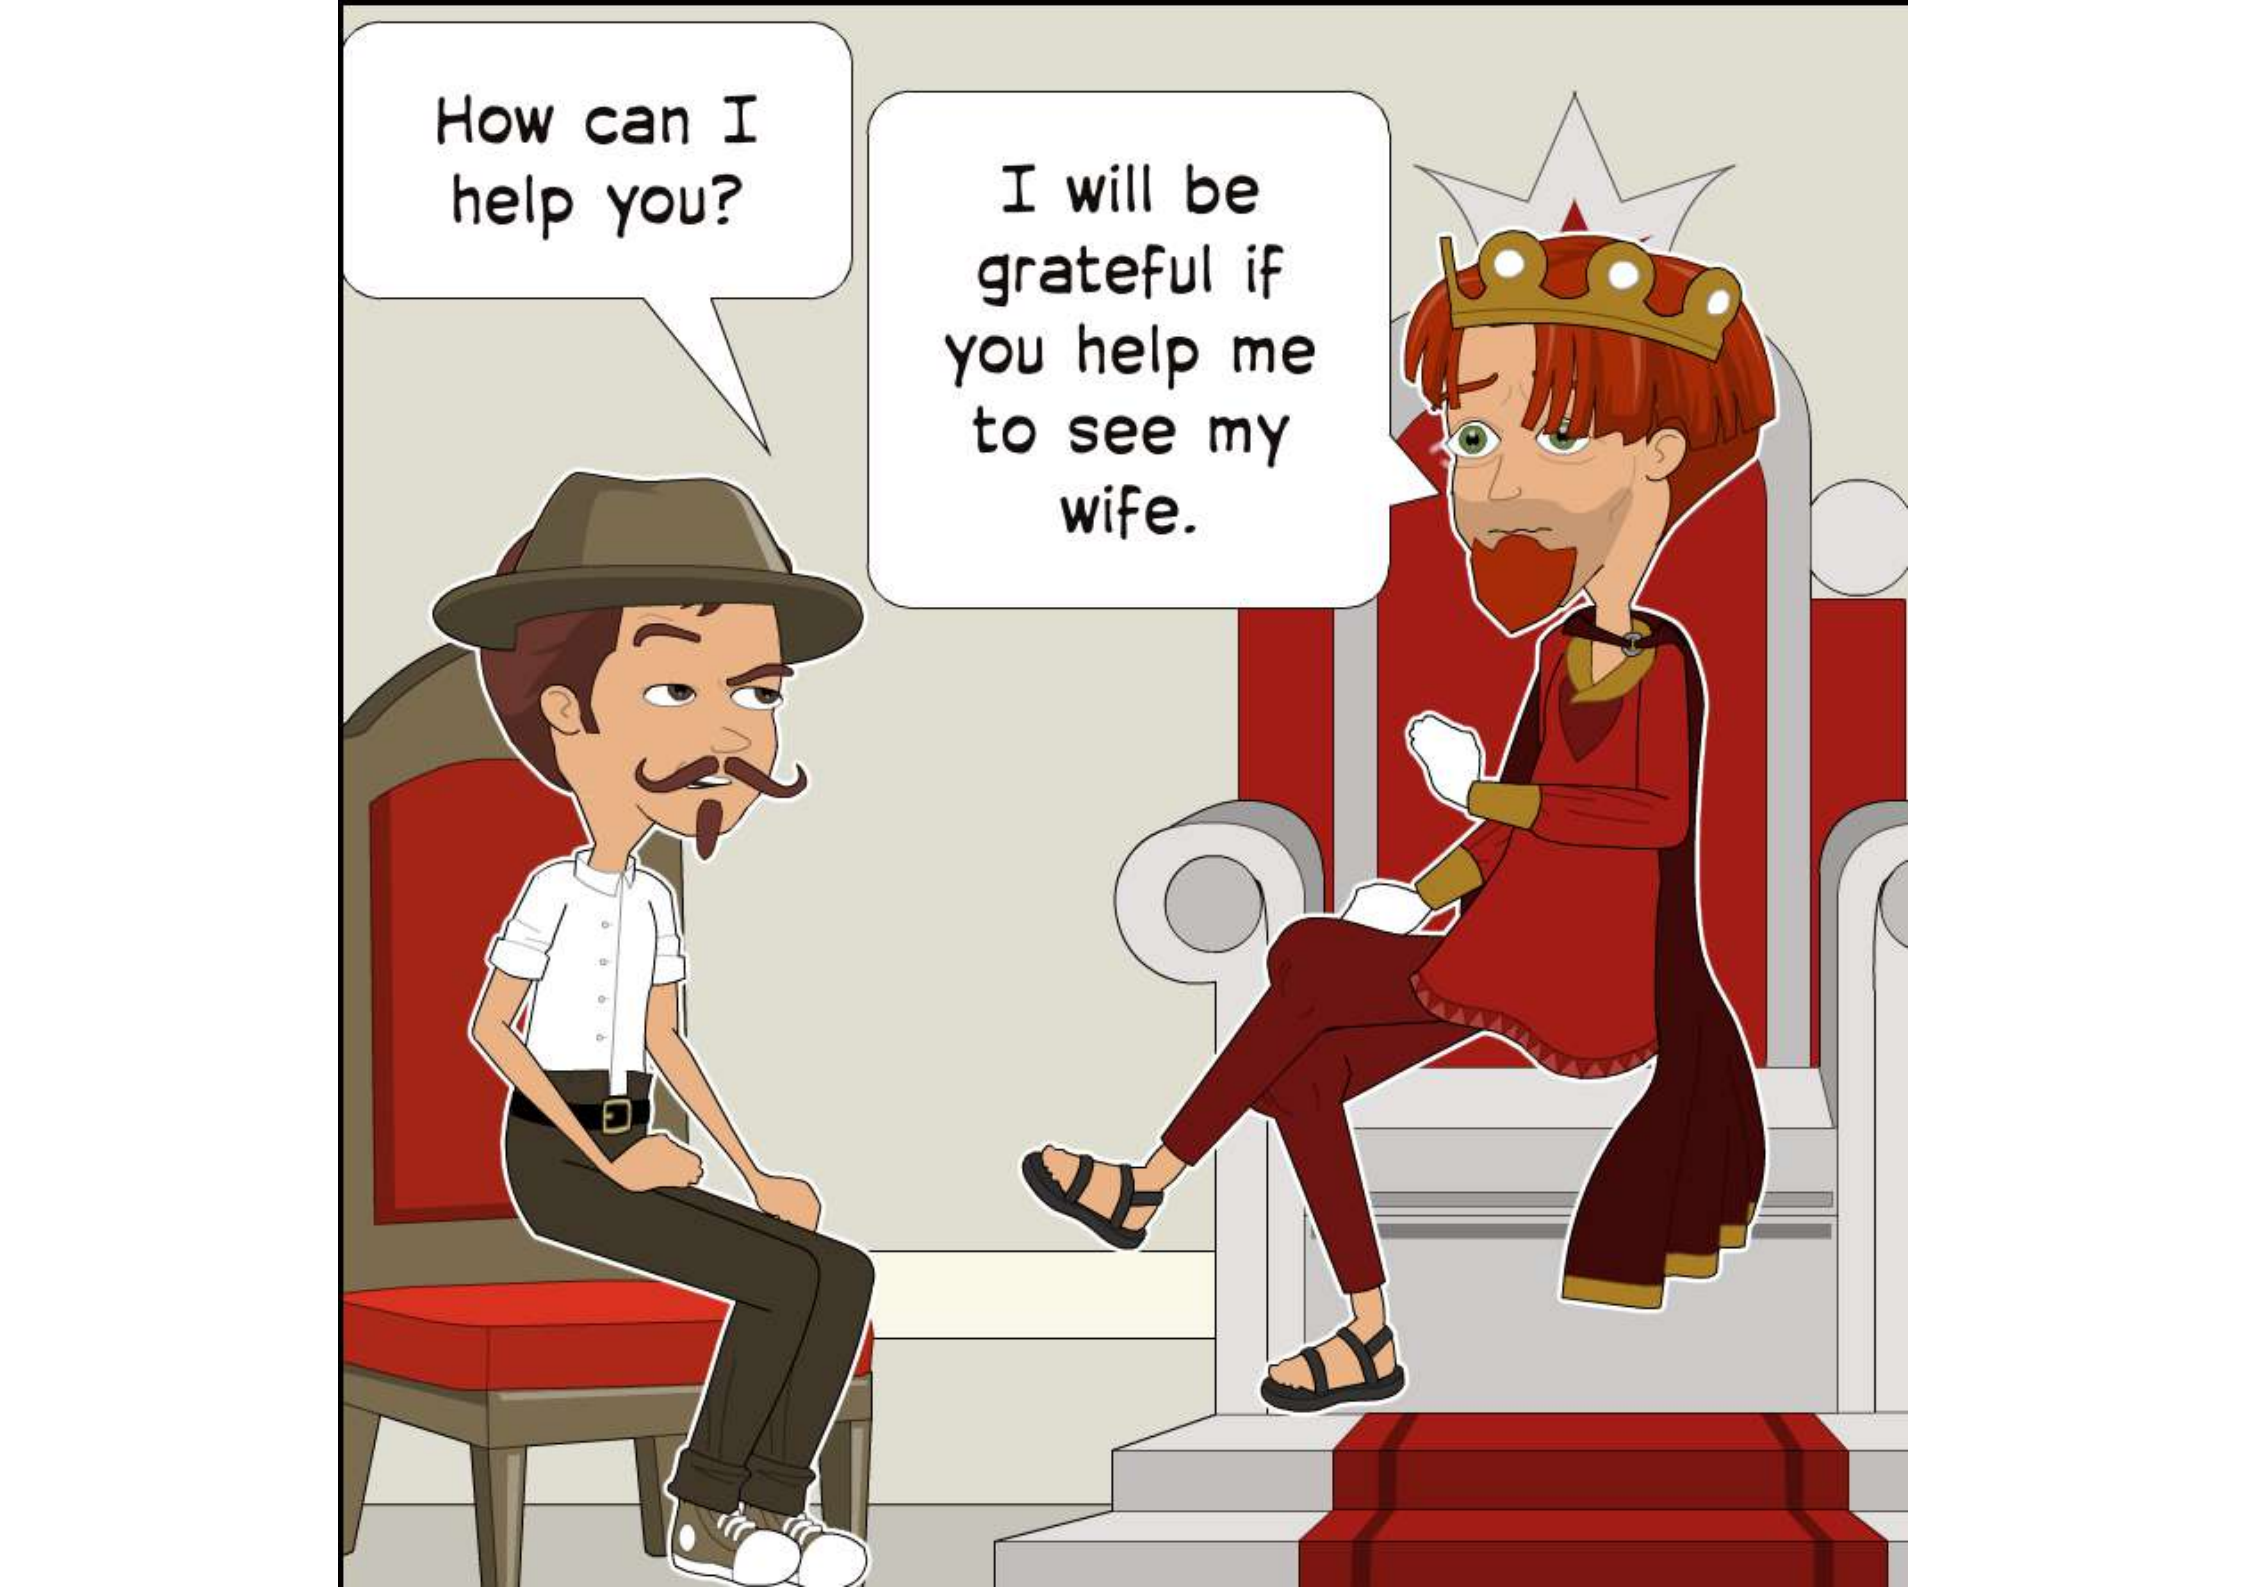

Twardowski's fame grew very fast, but he didn't rest on his laurels, so he decided to learn some magic.

Mr Twardowski became popular in the field of magic. Even the King asked him for help to see his dead wife.

How can I help you?

I will be grateful if you help me to see my wife.

Unexpectedly, the King's wife appeared in the mirror!

In exchange for your help I'll give you a good life in my castle.

Thank you!

Once, Twardowski was going back from the city. He was tired, so he decided to go to the inn, but he didn't see the inscription "Rome"...

Suddenly, when Mr Twardowski was drinking, the devil arrived at the inn.

OH NO!

Twardowski, you fool!
Do you really think that you can outwit
ME?

NO WAY!

The devil took him up into the sky,
but Mr Twardowski started singing...

LA LA LA

Luckily, for the devil, that sound was horrible, so he dropped him down.

Now, you can see Mr. Twardowski on the moon, because, according to the legend, he fell over there...
