

Once upon a time a Polish prince
was travelling around Poland.

Once he stopped by the Bystrzyca river. Near the river there was a small castle.

Good afternoon
fishers, what is this castle
called?

It hasn't got any name.

So this castle will be called the same as the fish you'll catch first.

Right. what is the first fish?

It's pike or
tench.

The prince pondered. He didn't know which name to choose.

Oh so your castle will be called Lublin*.

why?!?!?

* Lublin is means 'or tench' in Polish

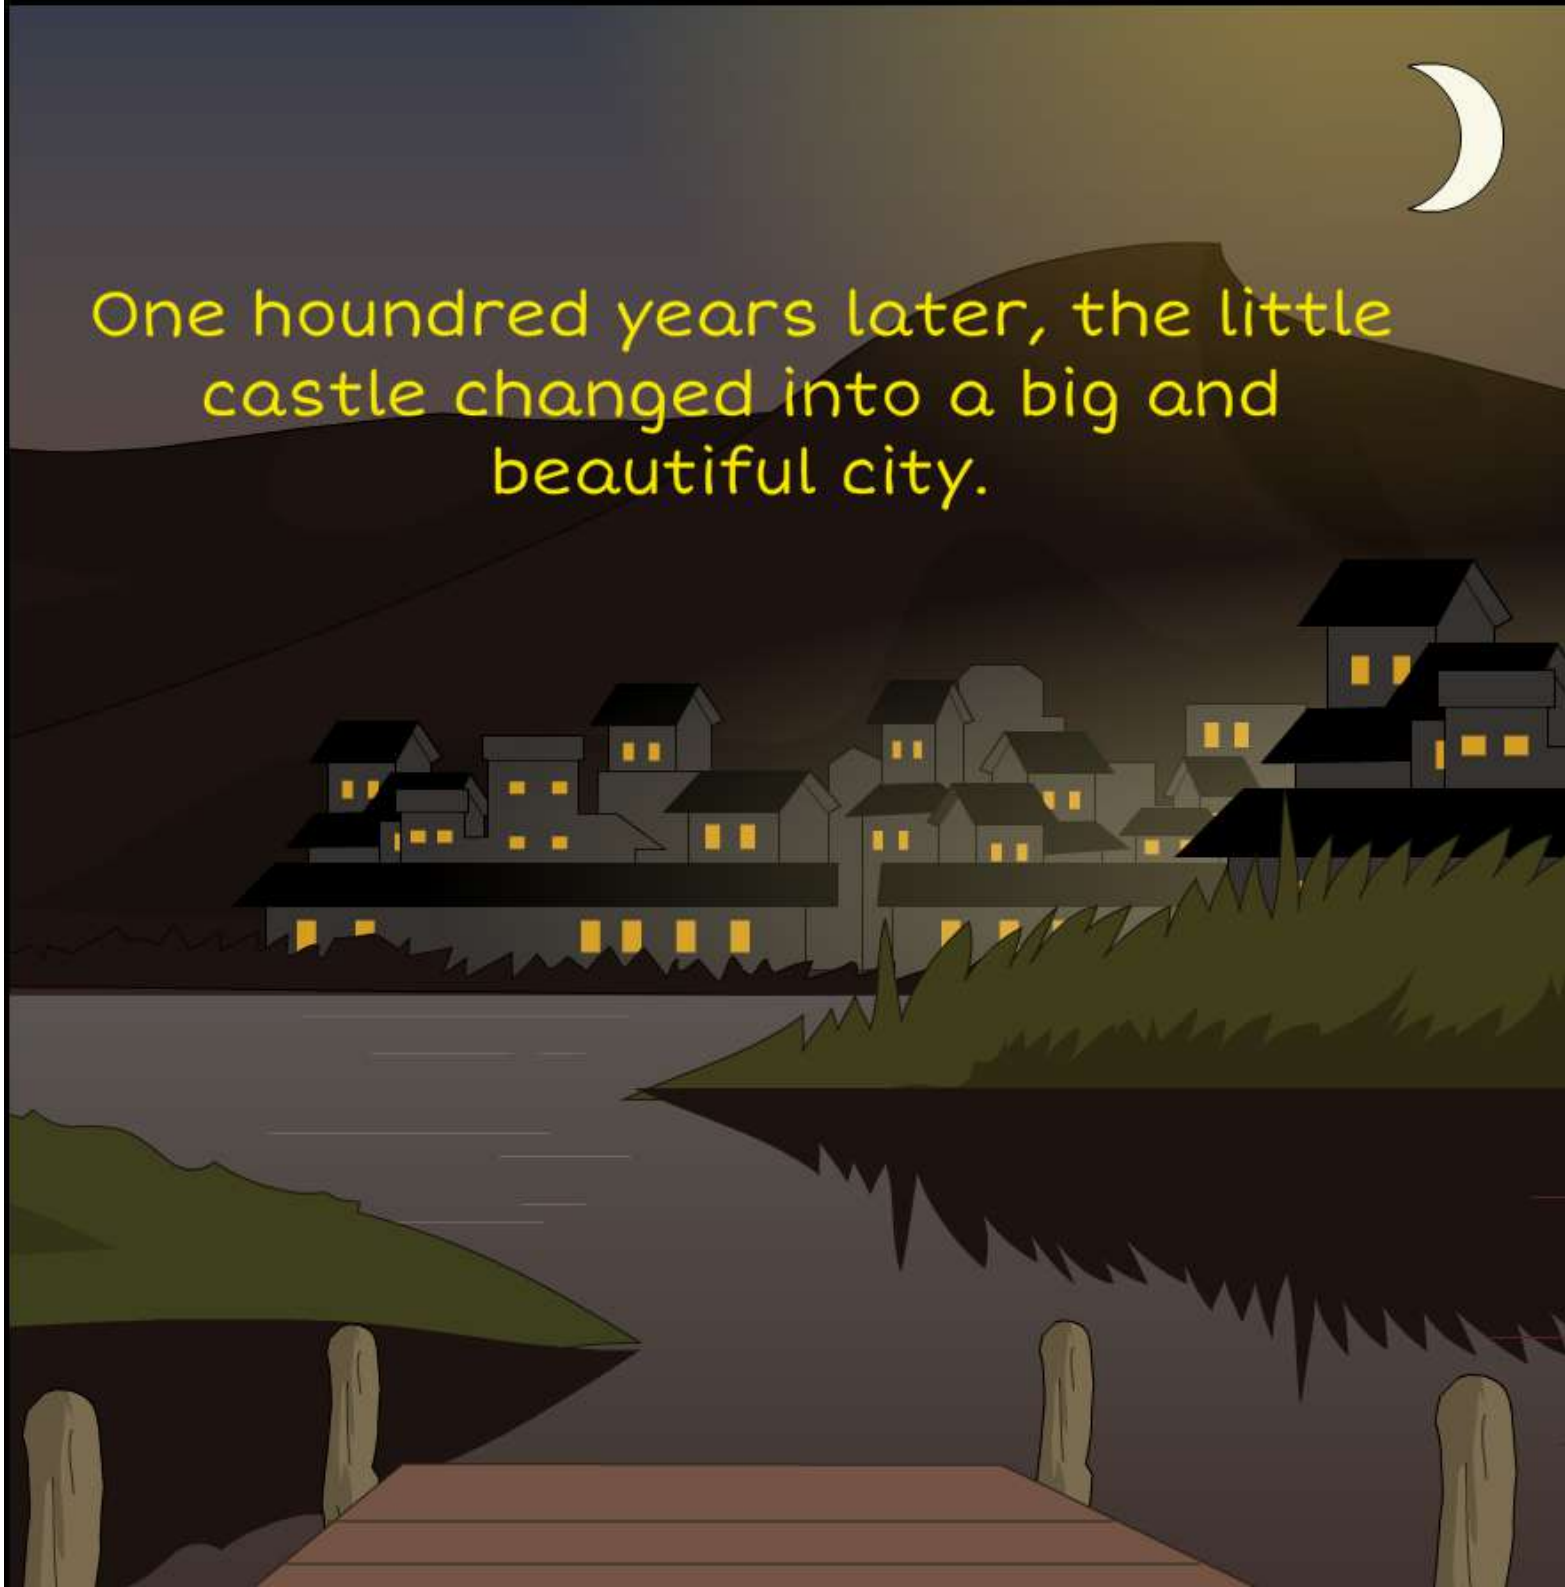

Because you aren't predator like pike and you aren't weak like tench. So Lublin it's perfect name of this castle, because it shows what people you are.

Fishermen were very happy.

One hundred years later, the little castle changed into a big and beautiful city.

Lublin
