

Pyramid food

It is a game to be played in a big room (like a gym). One panel with an empty pyramid food drawn is placed in one side of the room. In the other side there are pictures of food. The students have to move from the panel to the pictures and then came back with one picture and put it on the pyramid food.

The students have to move in a colaboratived way proposed by the teacher. For example:

- The student who takes the picture has to be carried by a clasemate and he can only put their hands on the floor (not the feets)
- The student who takes the picture can not touch the floor and the other students can not move while they are in contact with him.
- Etc.
